"The four wheeled cabs in London are called growlers from the surly manner of the drivers, and crawlers from their slow pace." So said the Nineteenth Century Magazine.

It has been almost universally remarked in Pensacola that the courtesy and attention of this store puts a good face before every one who does honor us with a visit.

it goes without saying that courtesy and down to the minute business methods do not go or come on slow feet.

He was succeeded by J. B. Roberts, Leaving here, he moved his family to New Orleans, where he became general manager of the Austro-American Steamship Line. He was 65 years old. Concerning his death the Picayune of New Orleans printed the following:

Simon A. Cosulich. After a six months' illness Simon A. Cosulich, New Orleans agent for the Austro-American Steamship Company, died yesterday evening at the Hotel Dieu. Heart trouble is given as the cause. Deceased was 65 years of age. He was a native of Lussiupiccolo, Austria, and came to New Orleans some twenty-five years ago. A son, Gilbert Cosulich, is a newspaper man, and was connected at various times with several New Orleans dailies.

Taken ill over six months ago, Mr. Cosnlich suffered with a lingering allment. He was confined to his bed at the hospital. His death occurred at 9:40 o'clock yesterday evening. Mr. Cosulich was well known and liked in local commercial circles. He held a very responsible position as the New Orleans agent for the old-established Austro-American line of steamships. He was a close friend of F Hindermann, the Austrian consul, and leaves scores of other acquaintances. Mr. Hindermann describes the deceased as a virile, aggressive business man, despite his advanced years. Deceased was a cousing of Callisto Cosulich, one of the owners of the Austro-American line. A. S. EDWARDS,

Superintendent

Cotton planting time is here. The farmers-and you undoubtedly number a great many of them among your customers-are beginnig to look around for seed for planting.

Are you prepared to supply the farmer's needs in cotton seed; the kind of seed you can afford to sell?

We can highly recommend and offer the guarantee of the producer of "Simpkin's Prolific Seed."

This seed is grown in North Carolina (out of the boll weevil belt) and is the most prolific and hardy that can be obtained. It withstands the boll weevil better than any other seed yet produced.

See us about "Simpkins' Prolific," which come in 3-bushel sacks, and which will make a bigger, better, trade for you the longer you sell them.

Respectfully,

THE LEWIS BEAR CO.
